Jakarta EE Long-Term Roadmap 2026/27	9 July - Visual ready to use and shared with both marketing and steering committee https://docs.google.com/presentation/d/1LBjjJg64j0HjmFu6m3EApN-mkavemyPFMUoblGZds/edit?slide=id.g3ee5ce22543_0_2204#slide=id.g3ee5ce22543_0_2204 11 June - Any updates? (from steering committee) - No further input from marketing committee members since last meeting - Dominika will take it further with the feedback we’ve received so far Jakarta EE long-term roadmap - One of the objectives for the strategic goal “Deliver future Jakarta EE specification releases” (Jakarta EE Program Plan) - Existing Steering Committee threads are: “[DISCUSS] AI Roadmap for Jakarta EE” “[DISCUSS] Jakarta EE High Level Roadmap” “[DISCUSS] Jakarta EE Landscape” AI Roadmap for Jakarta EE email has this proposal open for discussion 2024

	Jakarta EE 11 is perfectly capable of integration with AI in enterprise systems with the use of libraries like langchain4j-cdi, Omni.ai, etc. Most of the Jakarta EE implementations also provide similar functionality. ○ 2026 The possible inclusion of Jakarta NoSQL to enable use of more "unstructured" datasources, the enhancements in Jakarta Persistence, and other specifications, as well as the support of newer Java versions, make Jakarta EE 12 even more ready for AI integration. ○ 2028 Jakarta EE 13 will offer full AI support with the Jakarta Agentica Artificial Intelligence specification and more. ○ 2030 This is probably a little too far ahead to have anything tangible at this moment. But visions are always good to have.
